Foreword

We honor the past, live and work in the present in order that the future may hold in store for us happiness and prosperity—the two principal goals we are continuously striving to attain.

Whether we realize it or not, each day of our life is an important step in our preparation for adult life. Each day is a building block in the formation of a solid foundation upon which we will someday support ourselves and our families.

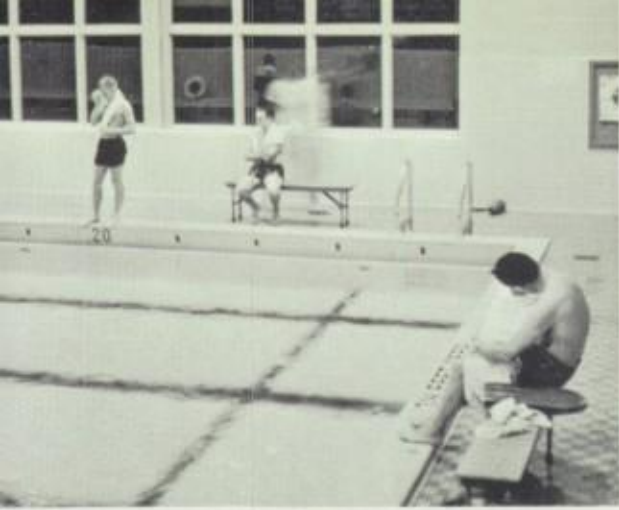

Our high school days are especially important in this construction period, for most of us will go directly from L.A.C.S. into our life's work. Therefore we must learn to use our minds to the best advantage this year so we can apply ourselves after graduation. This book is meant to be a representation of the past year.

We sincerely hope that this publication will prove enjoyable and satisfactory to you and that it will give you a source for recalling all of the happy days spent in preparation for your future.

In Appreciation to

Leon A. Davis

MR. AND MRS. LEON A. DAVIS . . . to Mr. Davis for all that he has done for our school and to Mrs. Davis for her graciousness and understanding.

Mrs. Leon A. Davis

Dedication

It has been nearly thirteen years since you came to Lowville, Dr. Ford. During those years our school has changed from a Free Academy to a Central School and from a small overcrowded building to a spacious and modern edifice.

Your life here has been a parallel to this development. You came here as a mathematics teacher. Then you became Junior High School Principal and subsequently principal of both the Junior and Senior High Schools, and now District Principal.

For your unselfish service to our school, we, the class of 1959, dedicate this Lowacadian to you, DR. KENNETH E. FORD, our District Principal and loyal friend, trusting that it may convey a part of our esteem and appreciation for your unfailing guidance and help during our four years in high school.

Mr. Davis with the scrap book containing letters from friends.

Leon A. Davis was born on a farm in the Town of Litchfield, Herkimer County, N. Y. on May 25, 1892, the son of George and Lena Rising Davis who were descendants of early settlers in the Mohawk Valley. Mr. Davis graduated from West Winfield High School in 1912 and earned his B.S. degree from Hamilton College, a member of the class of 1916. Postgraduate study in the fields of education and the administration of secondary schools was had by Mr. Davis at Syracuse and Cornell Universities.

Following graduation from college Mr. Davis secured a position as teacher of science at Johnson City High School and continued in this position for two years. It was at this time that he married Miss Katherine Wheelock of West Winfield, N. Y., who at the time of her marriage on August 11, 1917, was a teacher in the Endicott High School.

Mr. Davis' next assignments were in the field of school administration, accepting the principalships at Mexico Academy for the years 1918-19 and at Benton Hall Elementary School in Little Falls in 1920.

Coming to Lowville in the fall of 1921, Mr. Davis succeeded as principal of Lowville Academy, Clinton B. Atwood. At this time the Academy had a faculty of 26 and a student body numbering 762. Significant developments in education during Mr. Davis' tenure, in addition to two building programs, include the establishment of a vastly expanded curriculum affording instruction in the manual arts, agriculture, secretarial studies, and courses for adult education, as well as music, athletics and the traditional subjects.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis are the parents of four children: George R., Jane E., Katherine W., the wife of Charles C. Potts, and Mary C. Davis.

Organizations in which Mr. Davis is interested include Lowville Lodge 134, F.&A.M., and he is a past member and president of the Lowville Kiwanis Club and past president of the Northern Zone of the New York State Teachers Association. Mr. Davis is a member and former trustee of the First Presbyterian Church of Lowville, and was for twelve years a member of Lowville Village Board.

Miss Lowacadian and her attendant are chosen by the high school students on the basis of beauty, personality and character. Each student in grades 9, 10, 11 and 12 nominates two girls. The yearbook editor counts the ballots and selects the ten highest. The students again vote to choose our queen and her attendant. The choice of the queen is kept secret by the editor and the advisors. The queen herself does not know at the time she has her picture taken whether she is the queen or the attendant. This is announced at the annual banquet when the yearbooks are distributed.

Walter S. Keen
Guidance Director

Our parents, the Board of Education, the administration, the guidance department, the faculty all work together to give us the best education possible. On this page are representatives of each of these groups.

Junior-Senior High

Dr. Hodgson takes over from Dr. Ford his duties at his first faculty meeting.

Although the student of L.A.C.S. may find fault with the following groups, he realizes the necessity and importance of their guidance.

In their attempt to do what is best for us they may seem miles short of their goal . . . but that is probably because we are too close to our problems to accept their solution. The fact is we must gripe and the following group is the most natural target.

Although they are the object of our ire now, we shall soon forget such characteristic expressions as "what a slave driver," "boy, when Simon Legree gives assignments, he really piles it on" or "what does she expect, miracles?" These are typical phrases referring to the teacher's nightly burden of homework.

However, when we graduate we will be able to view our present taskmasters in an entirely different light, for we will no longer be the "poor over-burdened student." They will not seem like the unrelenting slave drivers as they now appear. We will then realize the truly great help they are to us in these years when experienced guidance is so greatly needed.

The yearbook of L.A.C.S. lives on from year to year. The members of each year's staff may rue the day they chose to accept the responsibility of a publication of such importance but in spite of being buried neck-deep in copy, proofs, layouts and complaints, we have suffered cheerfully. We soon forgot lost copy, pictures pasted on dummy sheets rather than on build-up sheets and senior pictures not returned. In the words of Shakespeare—All's Well That Ends Well.

Membership is open to all seniors and a few juniors who obtain the required number of ads and sales. Our advertisers make it possible for you to have a year book at such a reasonable price. The actual work of preparing the book is done by staff members who volunteer to put in long hours and hard work.

We have tried in spite of many trials to give you an honest squint into the school we know best—Lowville Academy and Central School.

One of the highlights of the year was the dinner held in our L.A.C.S. cafeteria at which we entertained Jefferson-Lewis District Student Council. Judy Garnham holds the position of treasurer in the District Council. Our Council is also a member of the New York State Student Council Association.

This has been our first year of working with our new constitution. We held bi-weekly meetings, supervised assemblies, had charge of field day and student teacher day, and served as guides at the annual Parents' night. The Student Council had charge of the student activities calendar and started a lost and found department.

Each home room is represented by one regular member and one alternate who keep all the students informed about activities of the Student Council. In addition, some of these representatives lead the flag salute each morning in the homerooms, take their fellow students to assemblies and collect tickets from students attending the dress rehearsals of plays.

Membership in French Club is open to any one who is interested in French and who has had at least one year of French. Meetings are held once a month from seven until nine o'clock in the evening at the homes of the members. Members participate in French games, skits, song fests and refreshments. Since French is spoken almost entirely, it offers the pupils a chance not only to enjoy a social evening but also to get a better understanding of the French language.

This year, the Library Club began its second year of volunteer service to the faculty and students of Lowville Academy and Central School. The fifty-five members had a work schedule which provided each of them with a variety of activities such as taking pass slips, checking out books, and helping Miss Glenn in general. Each member tried to serve at least two or three periods each week. These members are helpful and friendly to all who come to the library and find satisfaction in the service they render.

Christmas Formal

The scene—our school cafeteria; the date—December 22, 1958.

That night from nine until one o'clock we danced to the music of Bob Chisholm's band.

Undergraduates, seniors and alumni were all represented by a group that thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

The colorful decorations, friendly atmosphere and smooth music all helped to create a genuine Christmas atmosphere and to make it truly—a night to remember.

Freshmen

Juanita Schmitt, secretary; Sharon Stevens, treasurer; Gilbert Walsh, vice-president; Paul Gyore, president; Mrs. Genevieve Lawrence, advisor.

Five rooms were necessary to round up all the Freshmen, one hundred forty of them. Mr. Gordon, Mr. Blaisdell and Mr. Zeller were the home room teachers on third floor, while Mr. Haight and Mrs. Haight each had a room of them in the new building.

Activities seemed to be limited to getting accustomed to high school and to giving the annual Frosh-Junior dance in the spring. Advisors of the class were Mrs. Genevieve Lawrence and Jim Funicello.

Ronald O'Leary, president; Dorothy Gallup, vice-president; Mr. Francis Campbell, advisor; Theresa Hebdon, secretary; Mr. Lewis Kibling, advisor; John Delles, treasurer.

Any time you look for sophomores you can find them on the north side of third floor. Home room teachers are Mr. Shurtleff, Miss Hickman, Mrs. Ford and Miss Walter. You'll find various types of activity in the immediate vicinity before school—conversation in the hall, poster making in some of the rooms and sometimes some one doing homework.

The November 8 record hop starring Dave Sennett of WTLB Utica was the first big class project. They said it couldn't be done, but the sophomores did it. They even made some money. The sweetheart ball with Janet Jackson as queen and John Steinbrenner as king was held on Valentine Day.

Advisors of the class are Mr. Frank Campbell and Mr. Lewis Kibling.

Class of '61

Row 1—Carolyn Yancey, Joanne Mooney, Patricia Thomas, Brenda J. Hongo, Julia Koster, Judy Greene, Judy Carlston, Patricia Hoch. Senior Officers

Seated—Ruby Widrick, secretary; Carolyn Sweredoski, president; Jane Tabolt, treasurer; Joyce Campany, vice-president; Mrs. Hazel M. Porter, advisor. Standing—Mr. Harold Stahl, advisor; Mr. Russell Shurtleff, advisor.

Class History

Another class is about to emerge from old L.A.C.S. The class of '59 has struggled, laughed, worked, played, shouted, whispered, crammed, and slept its way through high school these last four years. These years, supposedly the best in our lives, will at any rate never be forgotten by any of us.

September 1955 found us a class of one hundred twenty in a crowded school with new construction in progress. Our class officers were Bill O'Brien, president; Carolyn Sweredoski, vice-president; Mary Meda, secretary and Judy Garnham, treasurer. Our class advisors were Miss Walter and Mr. Watkins.

The same officers were reelected for the sophomore year with the exception of Vince Nells who held the office of vice-president. Class advisors that year were Mr. Watkins and Mr. Shurtleff.

Our junior year we elected Duncan Farney, president; Mary Meda, vice-president; Liz Mattis, secretary; and Judy Garnham continued to hold the money. Mr. Shurtleff, Mrs. Nortz and Mr. Stahl were our advisors.

Senior officers were Carolyn Sweredoski, president; Joyce Campany, vice-president; Ruby Widrick, secretary; and Jane Tabolt, treasurer. Class advisors were Mr. Shurtleff, Mr. Stahl and Mrs. Porter.

Looking back we will always treasure the memories of our days at L.A.C.S., and with deep gratitude will remember the help and guidance given us by our teachers, advisors and other members of the school staff. Sports events, dances, parties, record hops, assemblies, meetings, exams, books, classes, study hall, lectures, faces, friends, trips, movies . . . the list of memories is endless. Thus ends a memorable chapter of our lives.
